

THE NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

"Inspiring people to care about the planet"

- an inside look at the Genographic Project and other initiatives"

Your chance to find out firsthand what the NGS has to say about making a difference and the power of the individual as a contributor and an inspiration.

Connecting people, ideas, places

The importance of Exploration

Project case study - The Genographic Project: Technology, DNA, culture, a shared past and ancestry and more...

Presentation by Alexander Moen
Vice President, Strategic Initiatives and Explorer Programs
National Geographic Society

Introduction

Rettore Alberto Tesi, Università di Firenze
(President University of Florence)

Cristina Giachi, Assessore Università e Ricerca
(Deputy Mayor for University and Research)

Moderator

Dott. David Caramelli, Ricercatore, Dipartimento di Biologia Evoluzionistica
(Assistant Professor Department of Evolutionary Biology)

23 September 2010
at 5:30pm

Sala Strozzi of the Museo
di storia naturale

Via La Pira 4
(near Piazza San Marco)

UNIVERSITA
DI FIRENZE

